

Married At Church Weddings

MRS. WILFRED M. SCHUTZ

MRS. DONALD LEE BEDKER

At an early evening service solemnized on Thursday, Dec. 27, Miss Judith Elaine Koester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. W. Koester, became the bride of Wilfred M. Schutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schutz of Eustis. Lighted white candles, and arrangements of Christmas greens and red poinsettias, appointed the chancel of Trinity Lutheran Church for the ceremony, the lines of which were read by the Rev. F. Worthmann.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Eunice Koester wore a full-skirted frock of emerald green velvet fashioned in the waltz length. Her cap of white velvet was accented at the back by a chignon bow, and she carried a small white muff to which was pinned a spray of holly berries and leaves. Wearing identical ensembles were the bridesmaids, Miss Ardis Duensing, Miss Esther Jens, Miss Marion Sullivan and Miss Rosellen Bubb. Miss Marilyn Fuss of Scotia and Miss Barbara Leising of Arapahoe were the flower girls, and lighting the chancel candles were Miss Carolyn Leising, Arapahoe, and Clinton Koester, brother of the bride.

Bernard Schutz of Arapahoe served as best man, and seating the guests were Owen Stage-meyer, Arapahoe; Max Clegg, Gothenburg; Don Reynolds, Palmer; and Charles Trumble, Pappilion.

The bride's gown of traditional white satin was trimmed with Chantilly lace. A deep yoke of illusion was framed by ruffles of the lace to form the drop-shoulder effect, and the fitted bodice was completed by long, tapered sleeves. Alternate tiers of lace and satin fashioned the front of the circular skirt, which was edged with lace and ended in a train, and her illusion veil was held by a scalloped cap of jeweled lace. She carried a white prayer book marked with a single white orchid.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Schutz will be June graduates of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture. The bride is a member of Towne Club, Gamma Delta and of Phi Upsilon Omicron and Omicron Nu home economics honoraries. A member of Farm House fraternity, the Agronomy Club and Gamma Delta, Mr. Schutz is chancellor of Alpha Zeta agriculture scholastic honorary.

The wedding of Miss Gloria Fae Emerick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Emerick of Milford, Ia., and Donald Lee Bedker of McCook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis F. Bedker of North Platte, took place Thursday afternoon, Dec. 27, at the Union Memorial Church at Milford. Pinnate arrangements of pink Fujii chrysanthemums formed the chancel decor for the 3 o'clock service, which was solemnized by the Rev. J. R. Kirby in the presence of 150 guests, and Mrs. Frank Fellows of Milford, organist, played the wedding music.

Mrs. Robert W. McQueen of Pomona, Calif., as her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert D. Bedker of North Platte, and Mrs. Lowell C. Northey of Brookings, S.D., wore alike frocks of pink taffeta in the daytime length. The rounded décolletages of their snug bodices tapered to deep V's at the back, and the skirts were shirred into fullness. They carried muffs fashioned of pink, feathered carnations.

Serving his brother as best man was Robert D. Bedker of North Platte, and the ushers were Wayne Emerick of Ames, Ia., brother of the bride; Robert W. McQueen, Pomona, Calif.; James Sweeney, Sibley, Ia.; and Lowell C. Northey, Brookings, S.D.

The bride selected for her wedding a gown of white silk satin. A panel of pearl-embroidered Alençon lace tapering to a V at the narrow waist formed the front of the sculptured bodice which was designed with a shoulder-wide décolletage and long, fitted sleeves. The very full skirt extended into a cathedral train, and her veil of silk illusion was held by a coronet of pearl-dotted lace. She carried a colonial arrangement of white roses and Stephanotis.

Mr. Bedker, who is a member of the McCook High School coaching staff, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and of N Club. He received his M. A. Degree at Colorado State College, Greeley.

Afternoon Ceremony

For the wedding of Miss Ruth Kluck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kluck of Richland, and Richard T. Lauer of Lincoln, son of William Lauer of Lexington, which took place Saturday afternoon, Dec. 22, crimson and white poinsettias and evergreen boughs caught with loops of crimson satin decorated the chancel of the Federated Church at Columbus. The Rev. Franklin Wales read the lines of the 3 o'clock service, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Ted Haldiman, organist, who also accompanied Miss Mary Ann Daly of Lincoln, the vocal soloist.

Mrs. Charles Mullenhoff of Columbus, as the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Wilmette Desch, York, Miss Sandra Dickey, Lincoln, Miss Harriett Allen, Lexington, and Miss Phyllis Sherman, Tecumseh, wore identical frocks of crimson brocade velvet. Low, rounded necklines accented their basqued bodices, and the very full skirts were waltz length. They wore headbands of tiny white blossoms, and carried modern arrangements of white poinsettias. Miss Nancy Berchold of Columbus, in white taffeta, was the flower girl.

Serving his brother as best man was Harvey W. Lauer of North Platte, and seating the guests were Fred Kluck, Jr., of Richland, brother of the bride, Dennis Sweeney and Don Bohmont, Lincoln, and Mel Leseberg of Beatrice. Gregory Kluck of Richland, also a brother of the bride, was the ringbearer.

The bride appeared in a gown of white silk tissue-taffeta. A portrait neckline and long, fitted sleeves accented the sculptured bodice, beneath which a redingote of the taffeta flared widely from side fullness over the slim, sheath skirt and extended into a brush train. A cap of pearl-trimmed taffeta held her illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

A former student at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., the bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Alpha Chi Omega and Sigma Alpha Iota national music sorority. She is a member of the faculty of the Tecumseh Schools. Mr. Lauer, who is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Delta Upsilon, is attending the North British Insurance Company school in New York City.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

There's nothing like a Danish Christmas dinner and a Danish dance around the traditional Christmas tree to brighten the festivities on Christmas Eve. And Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Granata, Ellen and Susan were host and hostesses at such an annual family event when their guests were Mrs. Granata's brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Overgaard, David, Ricky, Bobby and Tommy, residents in South Hills; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Overgaard, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hempke and children and Mr. and Mrs. G. S. M. Overgaard and Mary Ann.

When Mr. and Mrs. William Baker, Kathy and Leigh Ann entertained on Christmas Eve it was an informal gathering that provided holiday fun for Mrs. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hesson of McCook, Mr. and Mrs. James Retzlaff and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hesson and their children.

Mention of the Bakers reminds us that Mrs. Baker was honored on her birthday Wednesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Burt were a coffee host and hostess for the honoree and Mr. Baker.

Spending the holidays in South Hills with Capt. and Mrs. W. L. Ball and Wes, were Mrs. Ball's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Thompson, Linda and Susan of Birmingham, Ala.

Heard that Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Overgaard and their children entertained on Christmas Day for a neighborhood couple, Mr. and Mrs. George Robeson.

Enjoying Christmas Eve with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Dudley, were Diane, Nancy and Clinton Dudley and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Dudley.

(U)—Mrs. A. O. Dupier gave up too soon on getting a $10 bill back after she returned a borrowed book in which she had stuck the money. The book was sent from here to the state library in Oklahoma City. A clerk checking the volume found the bill and the book was traced back to Cache schools. The money was sent to Cache school authorities who started their search. They finally learned Mrs. Dupier was the owner. SPARTANS SHOCK HUSKERS

W. Virginia Tripped; Tar Heels Jar Utah

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—All-America candidate Lennie Rosenbluth scored 36 points to lead second-ranked North Carolina to an easy 97-76 win over Utah, and Duke defeated previously unbeaten West Virginia 73-67 Tuesday night in the Dixie Basketball Classic before a crowd of 12,400 in Reynolds Coliseum.

In the other opening round games Thursday afternoon, defending champion North Carolina State swept to an 84-70 win over Iowa and Wake Forest defeated DePaul 74-68.

Unbeaten North Carolina stretched its winning string to nine straight in completely outclassing Utah, which entered the tournament with a 7-1 record.

With dark-haired Rosenbluth scoring 18 points the first half, North Carolina led throughout, holding a 42-32 edge at the half. Utah couldn't stem the tide in the second half as Coach Frank McGuire's Tar Heels turned the game into a rout.

Center Joe Quigg and Rosenbluth were the big pointmakers as North Carolina began to widen the margin in the second half. At one time North Carolina had a 24-point lead. McGuire sent in a flock of reserves in the late stages but the scoring continued.

Forward Jim Newcombe of Gary, Ind., scored 19 points to pace Duke to its victory and avenge an 81-82 loss to West Virginia in the finals of the recent Birmingham tournament.

The fast Duke team was behind only in the opening seconds when West Virginia's Clayce Kisbaugh scored a goal. Duke quickly tied it at 2-all on a long shot by Bob Vernon. Newcombe followed with a goal and Duke was never overtaken.

West Virginia, with Hot Rod Hundley dropping in 24 points, pressed the Blue Devils in the second half but couldn't overtake them. Duke was out front at the half by 38-34 and continued to dominate throughout the second half with clever ball handling and superior shooting.

N. C. State, which got off to a wobbly start this season, unleashed a devastating second half offense to overwhelm Iowa and hand the Hawkeyes their second loss of the season against three wins. State now has a 6-4 record and will meet Wake Forest Friday afternoon in the championship bracket.

Guard John Maglio, with 21 points, sparked State. The Wolfpack built up a 12-6 lead early in the game only to see Iowa come back and go ahead 26-20. At the half, State had a 32-29 edge.

Maglio, Cliff Hafer and Bob Seitz were the big guns as State came in the second half to pour on the points and win with ease. At one point, State had a 20-point margin.

Guard Jackie Murdock's 19 points and his clever ball handling set the pace as Wake Forest's Deacons whipped DePaul in the opening game. DePaul captain Dick Heise was high scorer with 26 points.

DePaul trailed by eight points late in the first half, but came back to give the deacons a tough battle during a fast second half. Wake Forest went ahead 48-46 with 13 1/2 minutes remaining and held the upper hand throughout.

Rosi Liked Over Baby Vasquez 8-5

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hard-hitting Paolo Rosi, Italian-born battler from the Bronx, is an 8-5 favorite to make Mexico's Baby Vasquez his fourth straight victim of the year when the two lightweights meet Friday night in Miami's Biscayne Arena.

The fight, starting at 9 p.m. (CST), will be televised nationally by NBC.

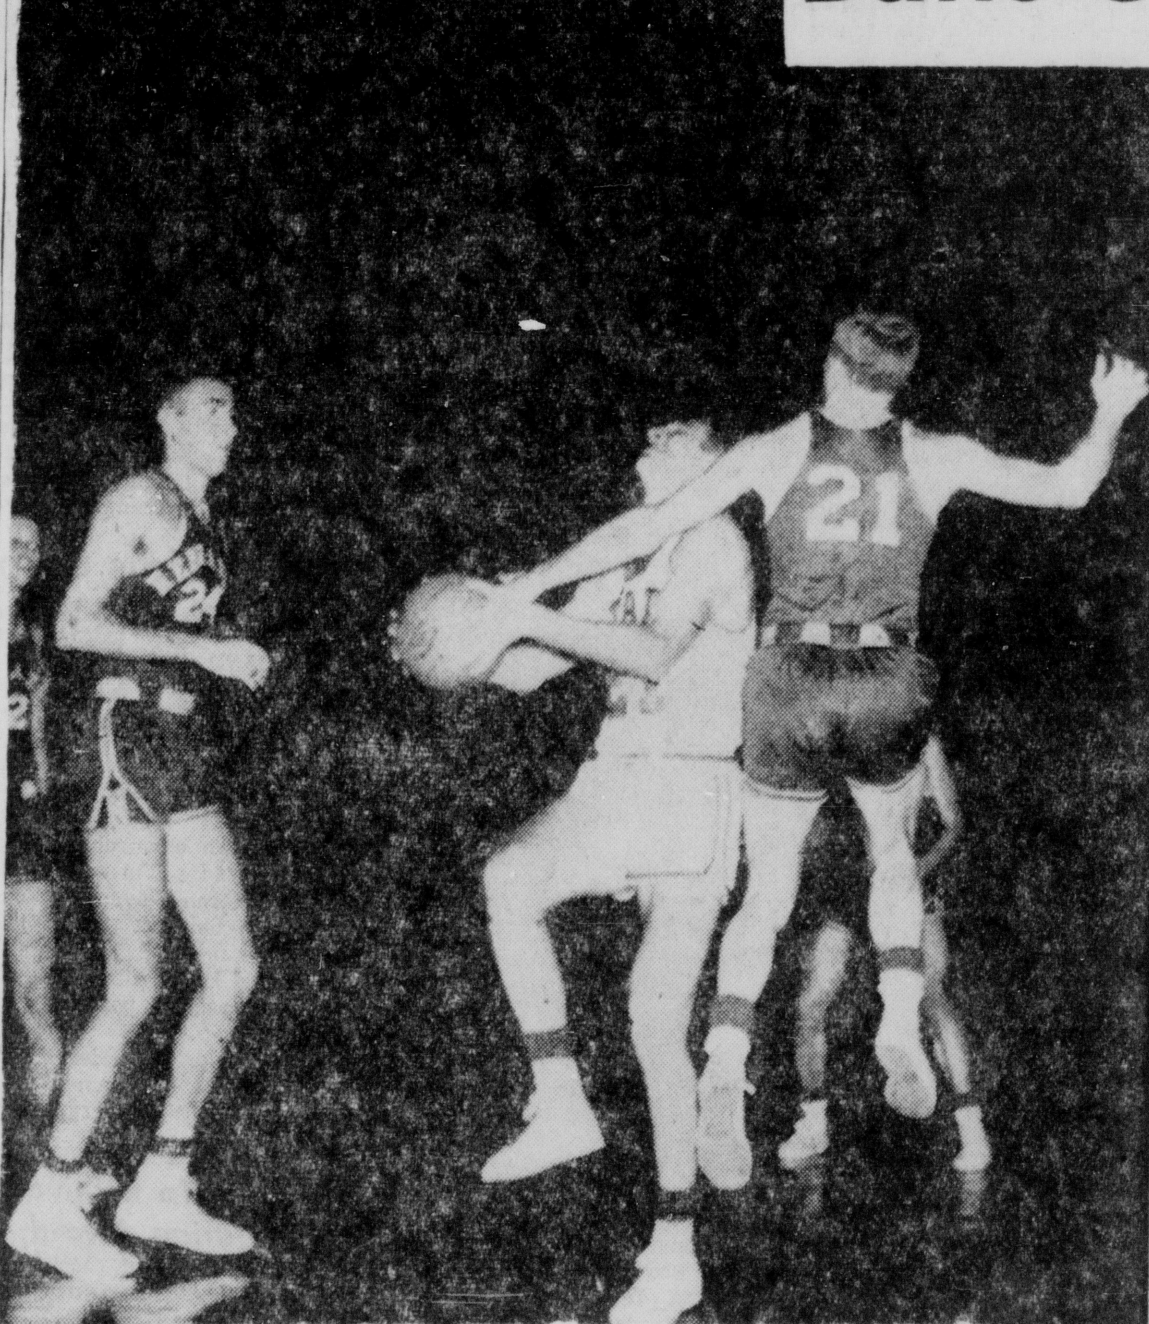

Neither fighter is ranked in the top ten of the lightweight division but if Rosi wins, his manager, Carmine Tarantino, says he'll go after matches with the top men.

Fourth-ranked Cisco Andrade "is the boy we want to fight next," Tarantino said. "A match with Rosi in California would draw well. We tried to get Andrade before but he wasn't interested. If we still can't get him, we'll take on anybody in the top ten."

"If Rosi wins good, they've got to fight him."

Vasquez is a more skillful boxer but Rosi's ability to hit harder with either hand has made him the favorite. He has won three straight this year, beating Sal Diguardina, Joey Lopes and Toothpick Brown, the last two by knockouts.

The Italian's record of 23 victories in 26 starts include 11 knockouts. He has been stopped himself only once.

Cornhuskers Meet Missouri

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Nebraska's supremacy over the Big Ten came to an abrupt halt here Thursday night when Michigan State staged a torrid second half attack to drop the Cornhuskers, 79-65, in a first round game of the Big Seven tournament.

With 8,000 fans looking on—including ex-President Harry Truman, Bess and daughter Margaret—the Huskers wilted under the Spartans' furious second half onslaught after playing to a 38-38 standoff in the first stanza.

After the rest period Nebraska zipped off to a six-point lead as Gary Reimers, Don Smidt and Rex Ekwall tallied buckets. At that point there were some 17 minutes left to play.

Six minutes later the Spartans had a comfortable 60-48 lead, outscoring Nebraska 14-2, and were never threatened again. The big State break came when they moved ahead by four points with some 15:03 left and the Cornhuskers were forced to leave the zone defense that had helped so much in beating four previous Big Ten foes.

The Huskers just couldn't stick with the hard-driving Spartans in the open field.

In the second half, Michigan State outscored Nebraska 41-27, with 13 of the Huskers points coming on free throws. They got only seven fielders, with three of them coming in the last five minutes.

During the time Nebraska's 44-40 lead disintegrated into a 72-54 deficit the Huskers got only one field goal and eight free tosses. Jerry Bush's troop, which now has a 5-4 record, was further handicapped by fouls in the second half. Jimmy Kubacki, Don Smidt and Rex Ekwall played most of the way with four fouls and Smidt fouled out with three minutes left. Nebraska just couldn't find the range in the second half, and wound up with a measly 21.9 shooting percentage.

Michigan State, paced by Jack Quiggle's 21-point output registered a 33.9 percentage.

State also got a bevy of free throws (33 of 48), while the Huskers hit 23 of 33.

Ekwall was the Huskers top scorer with 14 points, while Reimers got 13 and Kubacki 12.

Friday the Cornhuskers, who once again failed to make the championship bracket of this annual tournament, move into consolation play against Missouri, which lost, 64-55, to Colorado Thursday night.

The Husker-Tiger game will be at 4 p.m. with Kansas State meeting Iowa State at 2 p.m.

In the night session Kansas and Oklahoma will tangle at 7:30 and Colorado and Michigan State will tip off at 9:30.

Nebraska trailed the Spartans in the first half until Gary Reimers hit a set with 14:17 left to make it 9-8.

And from there the Huskers moved to a 22-14 margin at the midway mark.

An eight point tip by little Kubacki pepped the Cornhuskers in this drive, but Michigan State fought back to 28-27, with 5:17 left.

Smidt's four free throws and buckets by Reimers and Ekwall carried the Huskers back out in front by seven points, 34-27, with 3:27 left before Spartan sub Dave Scott pumped in five points and Quiggle chipped in with four to even the halftime count at 38-38.

Twice late in the first half, Husker reserve Lyle Nannen missed layups that would have stretched their margin.

But he did get a vital tip with 1:38 left to put Nebraska in front briefly, 36-34.

Both teams were off on their shooting during the first half.

Nebraska hit only 14 of 47 shots for a 29.8 percentage while the Spartans were even chillier, making good on 11 of 45 for a 24.4 percentage. Both clubs missed seven free throws.

NU Student Prexy Raps Big 7 Athletic Policies

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Recruiting of athletes in "under the table deals" by booster clubs Thursday came under the fire of Big Seven conference student representatives.

Students here for the annual Big Seven Student Governing Association conference said alumni groups often give their own schools a bad name in offering inducements to prospective athletes behind the backs of university officials.

Bruce Bruggman, president of the University of Nebraska Student Body, said booster clubs undermine the spirit of amateurism in college sports.

"A group of Lincoln businessmen provides a pool of money for getting athletes," he said. "This money is used to allow players to visit the campus and so that players who live outside the state can fly home. There is even some evidence that businessmen sponsor some individual players."

"The problem cannot be laid at the door of the university," he added. "It comes from alumni pressure."

Dale Tooley, president of the student body at the University of Colorado, said he couldn't think of any Big Seven school that does not in some way violate the rules on recruitment.

Chuck Henningsen, Iowa State student body head, said Iowa State has to compete with the University of Iowa of the Big Ten for athletic talent. He contended Big Ten rules on recruitment are more lax than Big Seven rules.

He added that Iowa State is losing $50,000 to $100,000 a year because of lack of a winning football team.

Asked how Oklahoma copes with over-enthusiastic alumni groups, Doug Matthews of O.U. said Bud Wilkinson, the grid coach, had cracked down on outside recruiting efforts by making groups report to him on their activities.

"If any of these groups are offering inducements the school is not aware of there doesn't seem to be much that we can do about it," he said.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Credit Kansas State as the hard luck team of the current Big Seven basketball tournament.

The Wildcats, one of the big four in the loop this year and defending titlists, are minus their main offensive and defensive weapon, Jack Parr.

Big Jack is a 6-9, 212 pound junior who landed all conference honors last season as a sophomore and he's the heart of the Wildcats. Without him they're greatly handicapped.

K-State coach Tex Winter was a mighty unhappy man before the first round game with Oklahoma. Parr had been hospitalized since Sunday (he played against Iowa Saturday despite being ill) with a virus infection. "That's the way the ball bounces," Tex said. "Somebody else will have to take up the slack—I hope."

As things turned out somebody else did take up the slack—Bob Boozer, the Omaha Tech grad—but his efforts weren't quite enough as the Sooners squeezed out a 67-64 decision.

Boozer, a 6-7 soph, usually plays forward for the Wildcats, but with Parr sidelined he was moved into the pivot and he did a remarkable job.

It was obvious he and the Wildcats were both at a disadvantage because of the switch, but Boozer still led all scorers the first night with 27 points and set a 17 free throw record by hitting 15 of 17 free throws.

The former Nebraska prep star rated a big hand from the crowd for his clutch performance, even though it was in a losing cause.

You can see where the Wildcats—with both Parr and Boozer—could be king-size trouble for anyone.

Proudest guy in the place after the K-State-Oklahoma game was Neal Mosser, Boozer's high school coach at Omaha Tech. Mosser and his wife made the jaunt down from Omaha via the train just to see Bob play Wednesday night.

Pitt Upsets Seton Hall In Orange Bowl Tourney

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—University of Connecticut broke through University of Miami's zone defense Thursday night for a 74-70 win in the final game of the Orange Bowl basketball tournament's first round.

Earlier University of Pittsburgh upset Seton Hall, 76-66, Western Kentucky outreached LaSalle 89-76 and Stanford set down Valparaiso, 68-51.

Connecticut and Stanford clash today at 3 p.m. CST, with Pittsburgh and Western Kentucky 8 p.m. opponents in the second round's final game. Miami and Valparaiso are paired at 1:30 p.m. and Seton Hall meets LaSalle at 6:30 p.m. in consolation games.

Miami led the UConn's till late in the first half when Billy Schmidt of Connecticut led a rally that brought his club out in front 36-34 at halftime.

The Hurricanes pulled up even at 53-all from a nine-point deficit in the second half, but Schmidt and Wayne Davis rallied under the basket to quell the Miami drive.

Davis and Gene Stage of Miami scored 10 field goals each.

Valparaiso was baffled most of the way by Stanford's brilliant defense, which held the Indians to five field goals in the entire first half.

With a minute to play in the first half, Stanford fired in three floor goals and left the court 33-25 in the lead. Valparaiso pulled up to three points' range in the second half but Gary Van Gilder's shots from the side stopped the Valparaiso rally.

In afternoon games, Western Kentucky on the sensational shooting of Owen Lawson defeated LaSalle, 89-76, and underdog Pitt up set co-favorites Seton Hall, 76-66.

In early stages of the game, Western's 6-8 Ralph Crosthwaite was highly effective under the basket to give his ball club an early edge. Midway in the period, Lawson broke loose for what eventually brought him 20 points in the first half.

The Hilltoppers left the floor nine points ahead at the half.

LaSalle narrowed the gap to six points early in the second period but the fast break of the Hilltoppers gradually asserted superiority and Western Kentucky won going away as Lawson brought his point total to 33, just one short of the tournament record set by Chet Forte of Columbia a year ago.

In the first game Henson, a 5-foot 9 guard, wound up with 18 points but set up many other plays to keep the Pitt attack going. Julius Pegues was high man for Pitt with 20 points and Bob Lazor had 18.

Three Seton Hall starters fouled out in the second half. The biggest loss was Dick Gaines, who had just started to hit when he went out with 11 minutes left. Gaines scored 8 points in the second half. Others to go out via the foul route were Paul Szczec and Marty Farrell.

Vince Ryan, a substitute, was Seton Hall's leading scorer with 13 points.

Ike Names John Whitney Ambassador To Britain; Aldrich Resignation OKd

Friday, December 28, 1956 THE LINCOLN STAR 13

By JOHN SCALI
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday chose a millionaire financier, sportsman and philanthropist, John Hay (Jock) Whitney, for the key diplomatic post of ambassador to Great Britain.

Whitney, a 52-year-old golf partner of the President's and one of his early political supporters, will take over the big London Embassy in February when the resignation of Winthrop W. Aldrich, the present ambassador, takes effect.

Eisenhower accepted Aldrich's resignation Thursday with "the utmost reluctance." The 71-year-old former chairman of the Chase National Bank has represented American interests in Britain for the last four years.

Whitney, in his first diplomatic post, will be confronted with the immediate task of helping rebuild Anglo-American relations to the high level that existed before the Anglo-French invasion of the Suez Canal zone.

Whitney's appointment was the most important one so far disclosed by the administration in its reported move to name some 30 new envoys within the next six months. New faces are expected to be seen in all the major European embassies.

Assurances
The President is understood to have decided to send Whitney to London after receiving assurances that he would stay on the job as long as the White House needed him.

Whitney is the senior partner of J. H. Whitney & Co., organized in 1946 to help finance the growth of new industries. In the same year Whitney established the John Hay Whitney foundation which carries out a number of educational projects.

Whitney's appointment has been anticipated for some time, but initially he was reported to have set an 18-month limit on his tour of duty in London because of the frail health of his wife, the former Mrs. Betsey Cushing Roosevelt, who was once married to James Roosevelt.

Responsible informants said Whitney finally agreed to stay on longer when he discussed the diplomatic assignment with Eisenhower during a round of golf last month at Augusta, Ga., where the President was vacationing.

Secretary of State Dulles was reported to be highly pleased with the selection of Whitney, who served as a staff colonel with the Air Force during World War II and who has won fame as a polo player and racer of thoroughbred horses.

Dulles was said to believe the New Yorker's financial experience will help him in grappling with the economic problems which have beset Britain since the Suez storm blew up.

Whitney's new London assignment will wind up costing him about $50,000 a year more than the $25,000 annual salary he will receive because of the extensive entertaining expected of the American ambassador at the Court of St. James.

'Hole' Use At Pen Defended

Warden Joseph Bovey Thursday defended the use of the solitary confinement "hole" at the State Penitentiary despite completion of the new maximum security building.

The warden answered attacks made Wednesday by District Judge Russell Robinson of Fremont that the old building was ill-lighted and still in use despite construction of a new solitary confinement structure.

"The two buildings have entirely different uses," Bovey said. The new structure now serves as an adjustment center for maximum security prisoners—the habitual trouble-makers—who must be kept completely separate from the prison population.

He stressed the importance of keeping temporarily punished prisoners separate from the maximum security group. The latter group, Bovey said, must be completely isolated because of their constantly disturbing influence and in order to give them special treatment, without punishment, toward readjustment.

Bovey explained that he had discussed the use of the old "hole" with Judge Robinson during the judge's annual pre-Christmas visit to the institution.

"I explained to him that the old building is clean, well-heated, sanitary, with plenty of fresh air," Bovey said. "The lighting question occurred because Judge Robinson commented on the lack of light for reading."

"We do not allow prisoners in solitary confinement to read," Bovey remarked. "Isolation and restricted diet is sometimes the only type of punishment to which a prisoner will respond."

First Lobbyist For '57 Files

A. G. Wurst, executive secretary-treasurer of the League of Nebraska Municipalities, was the first lobbyist to register for the 1957 State Legislative session.

Eighty-five lobbyists were registered for the last session, Deputy Secretary of State Roland Luedtke said, and about the same number is expected for this session.

State law requires registration of lobbyists and the organizations they represent.

They also must submit, during the time the Legislature is in session, monthly reports of funds spent.
